girl is a student at Williams Field High School.

She told police she met Donofrio at a nearby pool, which was where the crime occurred, detectives said.

Officers said the incident was reported to a staff member at the school who called police.

Police learned on Tuesday that Donofrio had been communicating with the victim through a MySpace account.

Detectives said they also learned that Donofrio has had an ongoing relationship with the student for about two months.

Investigators said he has been trying to communicate with other female students through MySpace, but don't believe there are any other victims.
